

Critical error – bailing out

This is an error that has been elevated to critical error status because it occurred during the primary error mechanism reporting system itself (possibly due to it occurring within the standard output framework). It may be masking a secondary error that occurred before this, but was never output - if so, it is likely strongly related to this one, thus fixing this will fix the other.

```
PHP ERROR [1] Call to undefined function delete_news_category() in adminzone/pages/modules/admin_setupwizard.php(1052) : eval()'d code on line 48
```

Details here are intended only for the website/system-administrator, not for regular website users.

» If you are a regular website user, please let the website staff deal with this problem.

Depending on the error, and only if the website installation finished, you may need to edit the installation options (the `_config.php` file).

ocProducts maintains full documentation for all procedures and tools. These may be found on the Composr website. If you are unable to easily solve this problem, we may be contacted from our website and can help resolve it for you.

Composr is a CMS for building websites, developed by ocProducts.